

3/24/14

Dear Lake Ross Collins Residents,

There will be a Lake Ross Collins Residents meeting this Thursday March 27th at the Collinsville Community Center at 6pm. We will be discussing the common area(s) locations and boundaries as well as a plan to get them cleaned up. We will also be discussing the lake fishing privileges and answering as many questions that are brought up in accordance to the LRC Covenants and Articles of Incorporation. I will have some extra copies at the meeting but they are always available 24/7 for download on our Facebook page under "Files". I encourage everyone join the LRC Facebook page and keep up with what is going on in our neighborhood.

You may have also noticed that Lauderdale County is installing our new rails on the levees! They have started on the small levee side and I have been told that they will also complete the large levee side as well. The rails that are up are a safety hazard so these new rails will meet MS State regulations and be much safer.

We have also had an issue with the small pond above the main lake with erosion. The overflow pipe out of the pond has been washed out and we have hired someone to make the repairs as soon as things dry up. We are also seeking quotes to repair the public boat ramp area that is in very bad condition.

There is a lot happening this year with the help of our new board members. A lot of activities this year including a new Luminary Committee which has already begun coordinating efforts for this year! The LRC BBQ is also on for this year and several other activities. So please come out this Thursday and find out first hand.

Thank you,

Doug Smith
